MURRAY CITY UPDATE

State of the City

When the Murray M logo was adopted in 2002, the group selecting it also agreed upon a tag line to accompany it. I have chosen to focus more on that slogan in the past year. You may have seen it on the banners in the core of the City last fall. It fits our City more each day - “There’s More to Murray.” I have learned the value of seeing what is happening in our City firsthand. Words are only part of the picture and I love to go to the physical location of conversations to better understand all the sides of a story. This has been an incredible year and I’d like to invite you to join me on a visual tour that will showcase the fact that “There is More to Murray.”

Across from City Hall and to the west, our skyline has been completely changed. Where two chimneys stood as landmarks for many years, the new Intermountain Medical Center rises and catches the first rays of the sun coming over the mountains. This amazing new facility will be a catalyst to additional rebirths in the core of our City as well as to prove that “There’s More to Murray.”

Traveling east along 4500 South we can see the benefits of the road widening project from I-15 to State Street. UDOT has been a partner in making this gateway much more appealing and a fitting entrance into the north end of our City. Moving to the far north boundary of our City on Main Street, brings us to the Fireclay Redevelopment area. It is exciting to see the beginnings of our first Transit Oriented Development coming out of the ground.

On Vine Street moving to the east across 900 East, we round the curve to see two new City structures. The smaller one is the new pump house for one of our water wells. It now shares its location with our new Fire Station 82, scheduled for completion in the spring. Station 83, to be built at 5900 South and 500 West, will begin construction this year.

State Street and Winchester brings us to the Fashion Place Mall. It is in the beginning phases of a great facelift. The first Cheesecake Factory in Utah opened their doors this fall and has been well received. The Mall is preparing to move two of the anchor stores to the north - Nordstrom and Dillards will both be rebuilt - increasing both in size and modernization.

As our short tour of the City comes to a conclusion, I would like to focus on the future. Being accessible has been important to me as I have served the City. I would like to take the opportunity to offer personal tours like this, of the City, during the next year. More information will be available in the Updates in the Murray Journal, on the City webpage, or by calling my office at 264-2600. A bus will be provided and I would love to show anyone interested that “There’s More to Murray.”

POLICE DEPARTMENT
Citizens’ Academy

The Murray Police Department is sponsoring a session of the Citizens’ Academy on Wednesday, March 5 at 6 p.m. Classes will be held Wednesdays from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Police Training Center at 136 W. Vine Street. Those who live or work in Murray City may participate free of charge.

The Citizens’ Academy is a ten-week program designed to provide citizens with a working knowledge of the operations, practices, and management of the police department. Students will learn about the service weapon carried by Murray officers, traffic stops, drunk driving arrests, and domestic violence. Homicide investigation, gathering evidence, media relations, and use of force will also be discussed. There will be classroom instruction and hands-on training. The program ends with a dinner, and students are presented with a certificate and a Citizens’ Academy shirt.

Two sessions are planned per year. Applications are available at the Police Department. Applicants must be at least 18 and acceptance will be determined after a completed background check. For a complete class schedule, please contact Officer Meg Rowland at 652-9839.

A complete monthly menu is available in the Center’s newsletter, which you may pick up at the front desk or view on line at www.murray.utah.gov. Reservations for lunch must be made by 12:30 p.m. on the day prior to the desired date and may be made in person at the Center or by calling 264-2635. For those watching carbs and calories, Mirza prepares a soup and salad bar each day which opens at 11:30 a.m., and for which reservations are not required.

JUSTICE COURT

The Murray City Justice Court handles many citations each year. Often these citations are for lack of insurance on a motor vehicle. Utah requires that no-fault insurance be maintained on all motor vehicles throughout the vehicle’s registration period if the owner/operator is a resident or the vehicle has been physically present in Utah for 90 days during the preceding year. All motor vehicles must maintain liability coverage during the registration period.

Motorists must carry proof of insurance and present it to any law enforcement officer upon request. Failure to provide insurance is a Class B misdemeanor with a fine not less than $400 for a first offence, and $1000 for subsequent offences.
